New Orleans, June 4. Improvement in the weather over the belt kept the price of catter over the previous close, but at their best the new the previous close, but at their best the new top months were still 7 to 9 boints under 1 the atternoon expectations of a favorble map to-morrew caused fresh selling, and the market closed at a net loss of it of 12 points on the new crops, wille July as unchanged. Market comment was to be effect that the technical position had sen itrenginened by recent Hamidation, hich accounted for the steadines. At the me time more short selling was in evidence than usual of late, being based on the life that turther improvement in weather inclinous would work against values. Short ling was more propounced in the afterson than in the morning. Cotton futures used steady, July, 1359, August, 1323, Octor, 12.75. December, 12.65, January, 12.65; pot cetton guiet, unchanged; middling.

names on the ballot for the special election June 23 for Mayor of Lynch-burg, no more candidates can announce themselves, but there are already five in the field for the honor. These are: W. H. Jordan, Royston Jester, Jr., Dr., P. H. Casey and F. W. Whitaker, Democrats, and Adon A. Yoder, Socialist. Whitaker is holding the office now under appointment by the City Council.

The free-for-all fight, the first here in years, is developing a lively interest, and a large vote will be polled. The candidates all appear to have good organizations, and these are hard at work, though the campaign up to this lime has been a good temperature. time has been a good-tempered one and it bids fair to continue this way.
